DNR UPDATE & PUBLIC COMMENTS

The Nitrogen Reduction Incentive Act (LB 1368) Guidance Document is nearly complete, and the program will start taking applications for the 2025 growing season in a few weeks. Incentive payments for reducing nitrogen application by the lesser of 15 pounds or 15% from baseline application rates will be made through NRDs targeting Priority Areas of elevated nitrate levels. Of the $1 million dollars available for incentive payments, half will be evenly distributed between NRDs with the other half distributed by NRDs based upon the number of acres in wellhead protection areas and areas designated by NRDs in phase II or higher water quality management areas. The program is designed to be flexible enough to move funding from NRDs with low participation demand to those with demand exceeding available funding.

No additional comments were offered from people in the audience.
